

Parents

Thank you for partnering with us in these strange times to make your children feel as much a part of preparation for Pesach and of the Pesach Seder as possible!

We will be discussing the pages of the hagaddah at our daily live streaming.

These pages are meant to be printed out and the instructions followed, if possible. We know how hard it is to have your children home and do not want to put any undue stress on you. Even if the pages are simply colored in and stapled, it's great!

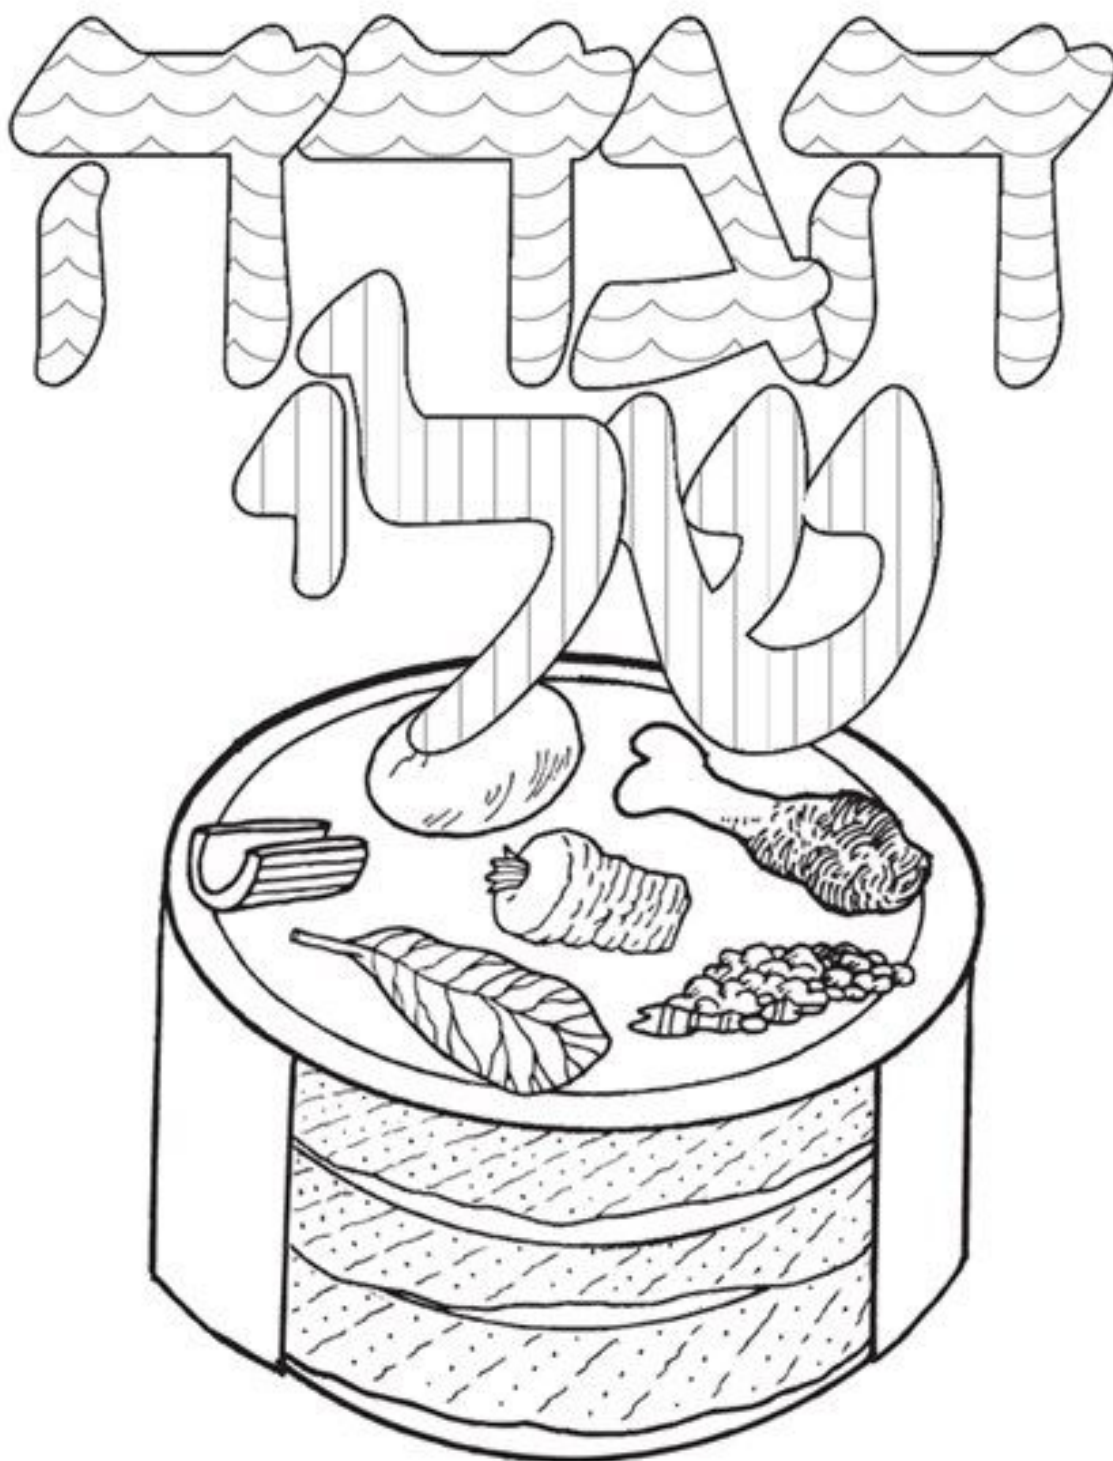

The instructions always come before the page for the step of the seder. We have numbered the labels to copy for the steps of the sedarim so that you or your child can make sure that they line up.

Please have fun and have a wonderful, healthy, kosher Yom Tov!

The children are welcome to cut these hands out to put under the washing cup for urchatz, but if they would like to trace their hands and glue them on, they are more than welcome. Creativity is welcome!

This is for yachatz. If a large flat piece of lego is around, placing it under and coloring with a brown crayon will make a cool matzah effect. These can be cut out (including the squiggly line) and put on the Yachatz page.

The next few pages will all be maggid, the Pesach, matzah, marror labels go for the sheet with the sheep, matzah, and marror.. As always, the children who can write them, should, and whomever feels like they can't, can cut and paste them in the correct space

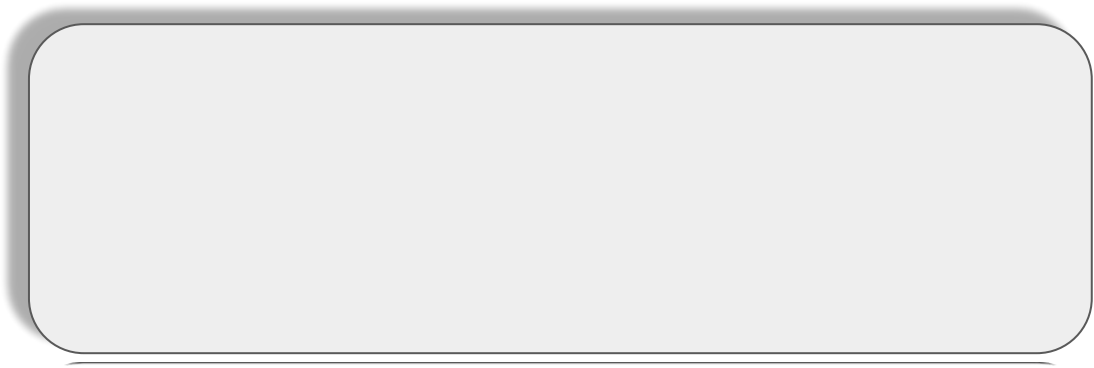

The makkos can be cut out and used as matching if so wanted.

The children can cut these out and sort them into “chol haleilos”
and “haleilah hazeh” on Pesach

הַמּוֹצֵיא לֶחֶם מִן הָאָרֶץ

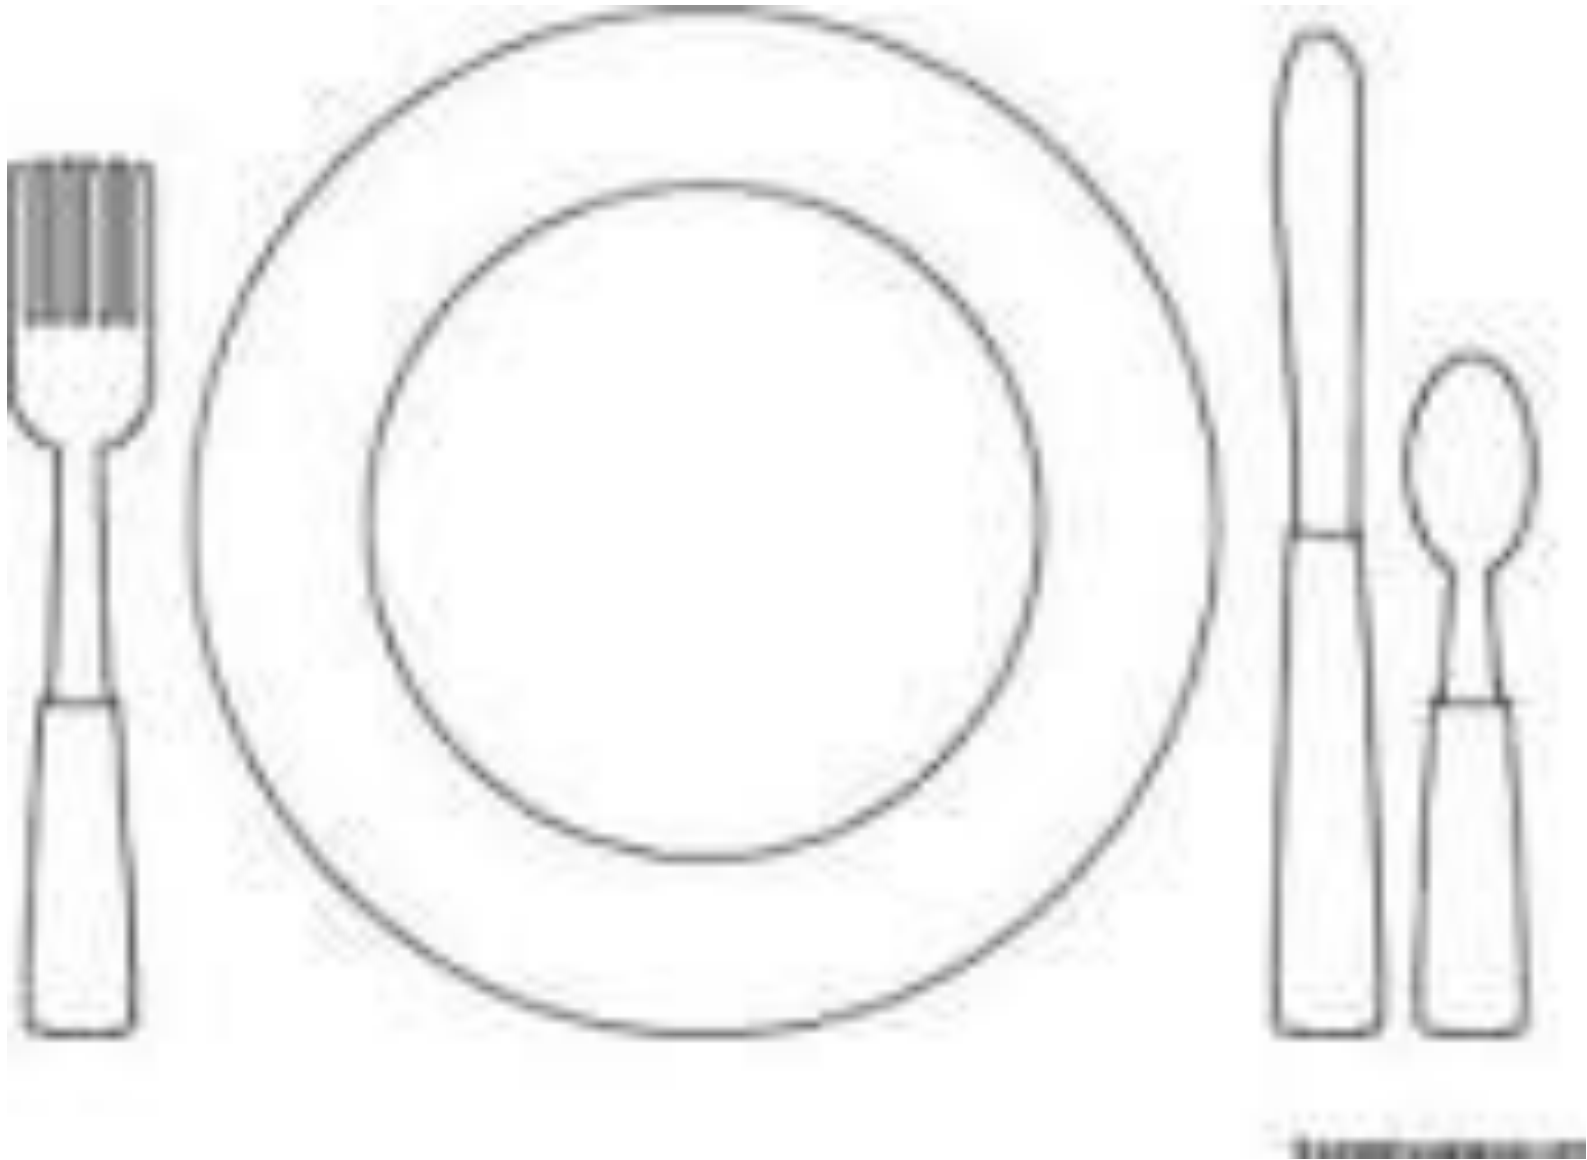

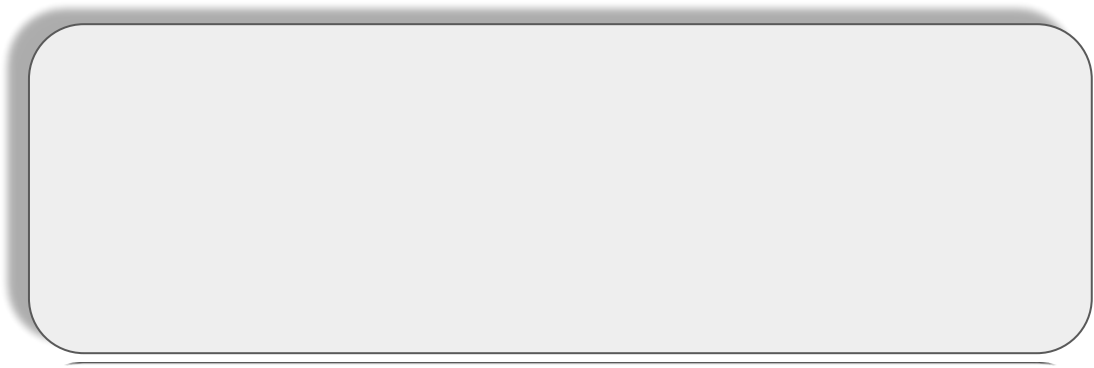

עַל אֲכִילַת מַצָּה

These can be made into matzos (always optional), cut
out and pasted on matzah,
marror, matzah for koreich.

These can be made into matzah, optionally, and pasted first the matzah, and then the afikomen holder on top of it on the next page for tzafun

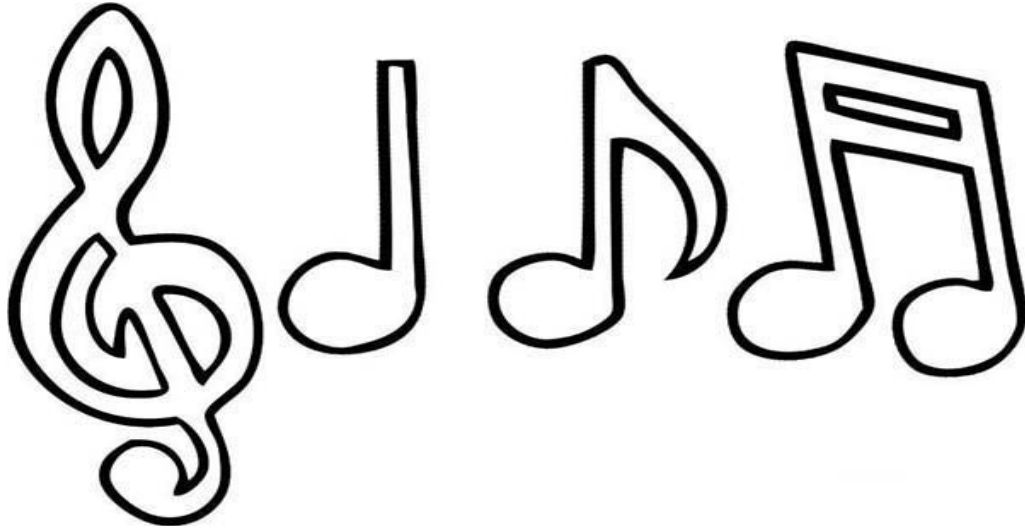

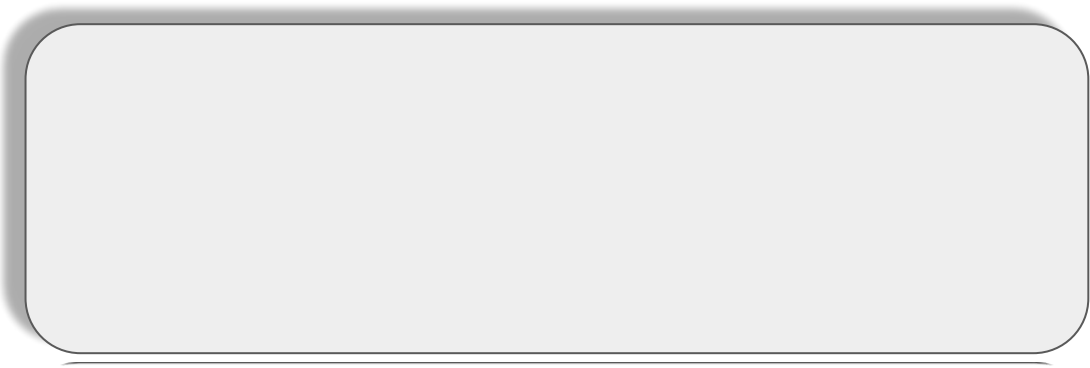

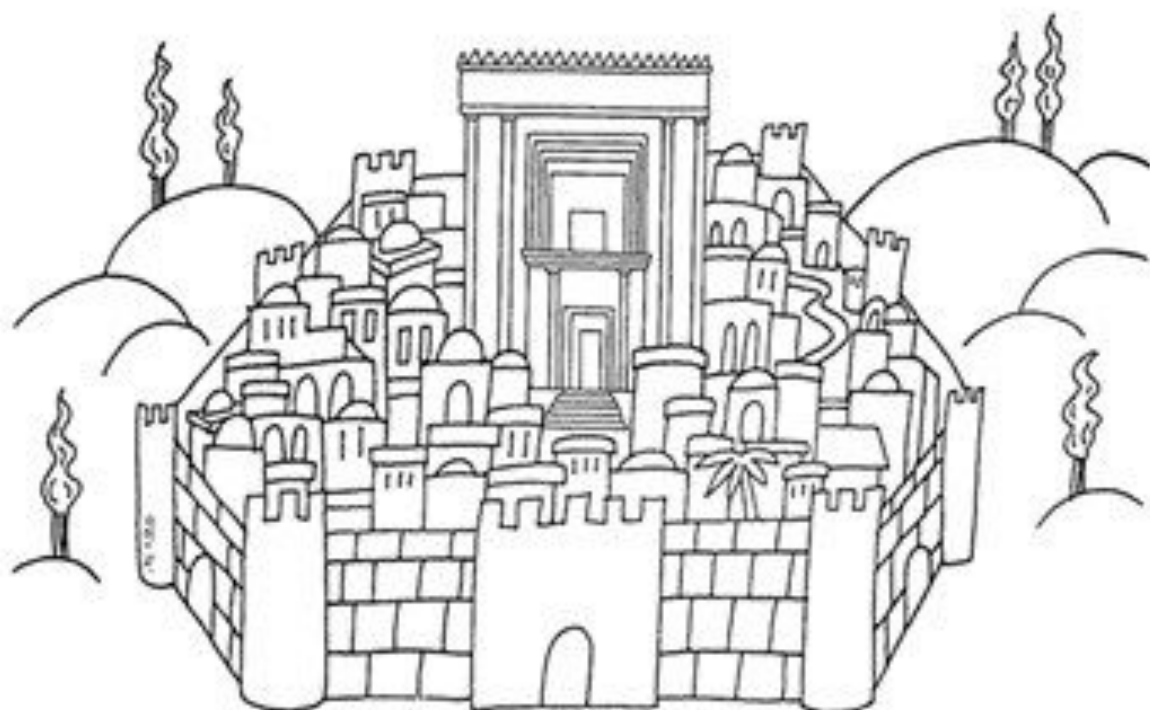

Any child who can write open up a bencher and copy the first line of each paragraph. If not, aleph bais or anything is great and then they can be cut out and staples together on the next page for bareich.

I am thankful for....
